 these are books which are the first in a series.

In general, each category starts with more approachable texts and graphic novels and ends with longer, more complex reads. Only you and your family can know whether a book is the right book for you. Although we have tried to vet each book as best as possible, we also recognise that what is appropriate differs greatly from family to family. Please access more detailed information about individual books using commonsensemedia.org.
